ABRIDGED PBS KVIE

Your source for local news

Ryan Lillis
Associate General Manager,
News

A year ago, Sacramento didn't have Abridged by PBS KVIE. Today, readers across the Sacramento region start their mornings with us, plan their weekends around the stories we write and count on us to explain what's happening in this region.

Let's start there — at the beginning. Before a single story published, we spent a full year researching the information gaps in our community and listening to residents about what they weren't getting from local news.

That groundwork shaped everything: which beats we'd cover, which communities we'd prioritize and what kind of newsroom we'd build. On Sept. 16, 2025, Abridged launched.

One year later, the numbers tell part of the story. Stories on abridged.org have been viewed more than 2.1 million times. What began as a single daily newsletter has grown into five: The Morning Newsletter, Cultural Capital, City of Treats, Homeroom and our Yolo County newsletter — with a Placer County newsletter on the way. Each one exists because readers told us they wanted deeper, more specific coverage of the places and topics that matter to them.

This year, the California News Publishers Association recognized that work with 16 California Journalism Awards, six of them first-place honors — a remarkable showing for a newsroom that didn't exist 13 months ago.

But awards aren't why we do this. Your membership supports a newsroom of two dozen full-time journalists, plus several more regular contributors, doing the kind of accountability journalism this region needs. Over the past year, that's meant asking hard questions of powerful institutions and following through until we got answers. It's meant sending reporters into classrooms across the region so families can understand how their schools are really doing. It's meant covering the arts, restaurants and everyday joys that make Sacramento, Yolo, Placer and El Dorado counties feel like home — because a community's story isn't only told through its struggles.

None of this happens without you. Public media has always depended on the people it serves, and in a moment when local news is disappearing across the country, that partnership matters more than ever. Every member who reads Cultural Capital over coffee, forwards Homeroom to a fellow parent, or shows up because of a Yolo County story we broke — you're the reason Abridged made it through year one, and the reason we're building toward year two.

Thank you for believing in this from the start. We're just getting going.

Visit abridged.org for more.

NOVA: Stone Age Masterpiece
September 30 at 9PM
Take an incredible journey into the Chauvet Cave, an archaeological treasure hidden from the world for millennia. Sealed by a rockfall 20,000 years ago, and rediscovered in 1994, it protects some of the world's oldest and best-preserved Stone Age art. Join a team of scientists as they unlock the secret history of the cave, and uncover how these early humans created carefully planned compositions on the walls, upending our traditional understanding of art history and connecting us intimately to the dawn of human creativity.

Nature: Sesame Street and the Great Elephant Adventure
October 14 at 8PM

After adopting an orphaned elephant online, Elmo, Abby, and Nina decide to travel to the Sheldrick Wildlife Trust in Kenya to meet the young elephant and the keepers who care for her. The friends embark on an unforgettable journey of discovery, where they come face to face with some of nature's most iconic wildlife.

Everyone needs a plan.

PBS KVIE | ABRIDGED

Creating a will is one of the most important ways to care for the people and causes you love. That's why PBS KVIE has partnered with Giving Docs to offer a free, secure, and easy-to-use tool that helps you create a legally valid will from the comfort of your home.

Why create a will?

- Protect the people you love. Make your wishes clear and help reduce uncertainty for your family.
- Take control of the future. A will helps ensure your assets are distributed according to your wishes.
- Support causes you care about. If you choose, you can include a charitable gift that reflects your values.

Giving Docs makes the process simple and secure. Best of all, your account is free for life, so you can update your documents as your life changes.

There's no cost to use Giving Docs, and you're never obligated to include PBS KVIE in your plans. We're proud to offer this resource as one more way we serve our community.

Create your will in four simple steps:

1. Visit GivingDocs.com/KVIE to create your free account.
2. Follow the guided steps to create your will and other essential estate planning documents.
3. Print and review your completed documents.
4. Follow the provided instructions to sign your will so it is legally valid in California.

We're here to help.
